OVERVIEW

- Copyright in publishing
- Copyright in teaching
- Common copyright questions

COPYRIGHT IN PUBLISHING

COPYRIGHT IN PUBLISHING

- Preparing a manuscript

The journal/publisher will expect you to sort out all the clearance for any third party material, and give appropriate attributions.

COPYRIGHT IN PUBLISHING

How is research published?

- Subscription based journals
- Open Access journals
- Hybrid journals
- Books
- Open Access monographs

SUBSCRIPTION BASED JOURNALS

A close-up photograph of a person's hands signing a document. The person is wearing a light blue shirt and is holding a black pen with a silver tip. The document is white and has some faint markings. The background is blurred, showing what appears to be a desk or table. The entire image is framed by a dark red border.

Through terms and conditions, many researchers sign over the copyright to the publisher

SUBSCRIPTION BASED JOURNALS

Usually researchers keep the copyright to the Author's Accepted Manuscript (AAM).

However, there might be restrictions in terms of what you are allowed to do with the content, and there is often an embargo on the AAM.

SUBSCRIPTION BASED JOURNALS

Did you know?

Some journals will allow you to request a change of the copyright agreement so that you can keep all rights to the document.

OPEN ACCESS JOURNALS

Author keeps all rights to their work, including the published version. The journal gets a licence to publish.

HYBRID JOURNALS

A hybrid journal is a subscription based journal

...with an open access option for single articles

HYBRID JOURNALS

If publishing open access, a CC licence is attached to the work and all rights remain with the author.

If publishing 'traditionally' the copyright is usually transferred to the journal.

OPEN ACCESS JOURNALS

Articles published in an Open Access journal have a CC (Creative Commons) licence.

Icon	Abbreviation	Meaning
	BY	Reuse allowed as long as the author or licensor gets credit (attribution)
	SA	Licensees are allowed to distribute modified work, but only under the same or 'not more restrictive' licence as the original work
	NC	Reuse is allowed, but only for non-commercial purposes
	ND	No modifications allowed

RIGHTS RETENTION STRATEGY

- Funders increasingly asking for open access publication
- Plan S stipulates 3 routes to compliance
- Green OA with zero month embargo
- Journal and funder mismatch
- Rights Retention Strategy

RIGHTS RETENTION STRATEGY

“For the purpose of Open Access, the author has applied a CC BY public copyright licence to any Author Accepted Manuscript (AAM) version arising from this submission.”

BOOKS

A black and white photograph of a stack of books. The top book is open, showing its pages. Below it are several closed books of varying thicknesses, stacked on a shelf. The background is dark and out of focus.

The publisher will ask the author to assign certain rights

BOOKS

The details of this agreement can differ a lot from publisher to publisher, so do read the copyright agreement before signing.

- Assign copyright = publisher now owns the work (but author usually gets royalties/payment)
- Exclusive rights = author usually keep copyright but is not allowed to publish or disseminate their work elsewhere
- Non-exclusive rights = dissemination is allowed, but re-publishing is usually not

OPEN ACCESS MONOGRAPHS

Same concept as Open Access journals

© Published under CC licence

TEACHING

The background of the slide is a photograph of a library. It shows long rows of white bookshelves filled with books, receding into the distance. The floor is covered in a purple carpet with white dashed lines. The lighting is warm, and the overall scene is a perspective view of the library aisles.

Copyright affects:

- What can be used in teaching materials
- What can be included on online reading lists

TEACHING

- CLA licence for Higher Education
- Covers copying from books, journals and magazines
- Allows copying of up to 10% or one chapter (whichever is greater)
- Copies can be shared with students and staff
- We report all materials copied under the terms of this licence

TEACHING

- ERA licence for Higher Education
- Staff and students can record or make copies of programmes for educational use
- Allows programmes or clips to be shared on VLEs and embedded in presentations
- Allows us to subscribe to BoB

TEACHING

- Copyright Exceptions - Section 32:
Illustration for instruction
- Materials can be used where the sole purpose is instruction
- Open to interpretation
- The usual “fair dealing” questions apply
- When in doubt, get in touch!

HOWEVER...

Copyright is not always straight forward

“DO I OWN
THE RIGHTS
TO MY PHD?”

“CAN I USE IMAGES I DON'T OWN IN MY PHD THESIS?”

“CAN I INCLUDE THE IMAGES I USED IN RESEARCH IN MY PUBLICATION?”

“CAN I RE-USE CONTENT
FROM WORK I HAVE PUBLISHED BEFORE?”

“CAN I REUSE FIGURES
FROM MY PUBLISHED WORK IN FUTURE WORK?”

“CAN I PUT MY READING MATERIALS ON A VLE?”

A woman with long dark hair is sitting at a desk in a dimly lit room. She is wearing a light-colored, short-sleeved button-down shirt. She is holding a white mug to her lips with her right hand and looking at a laptop screen with her left hand. The laptop is open and displaying a webpage with a grid of images. A small potted plant is on the desk next to the laptop. The background is a window with a view of a bright outdoor area. The image has a red border on the left and bottom, and a purple border on the right and top.

“I WROTE THE
CHAPTER, SO I CAN DO
WHATEVER I LIKE WITH THE FULL TEXT?”

“IT’S FREELY AVAILABLE ONLINE, SO I CAN SHARE IT WITH MY STUDENTS?”

“I ONLY WANT TO USE A FEW PAGES, SO IT’S FINE TO SCAN AND SHARE?”

“IT’S VERY OLD, SO COPYRIGHT DOESN’T APPLY?”

“NO ONE WILL KNOW, AND IT WILL HELP MY STUDENTS, SO IT’S FINE TO USE?”
